Thinking like an Explorer

You've just learned about incredible "Explorers" in the United Arab Emirates. These people may work in the Ministry of Happiness, in business, in education, or in the UAE Space Agency. They are all exploring what it means to push the boundaries of the limits of their profession, or their own personal limits. Reflect on these people as you complete the questions below.

Reflection Questions:

1. What does the word "Explore" mean to you?

2. In what area of life would you like to be an explorer (i.e. art, sports, a profession, travel, etc.…)? Why does this interest you?

3. Do some research on someone who has gone before you and been an "explorer" in the field that interests you. Fill out the chart on the next page regarding this person.

4. Envision what the idea of exploration might look like in your own life. Describe this below.
